NEW! THE 8TH WONDER OF THE WORLD!

BEAUTIFUL, GROWING LIVE MINIATURE TREES

Here's news so different—so startling—so important that you will want to read every word carefully.

You've heard about the many wonders of the world—the Grand Canyon of Arizona—the giant Sequoia trees of California—Niagara Falls—Carlsbad Caverns and many others—but now another wonder has been added. A wonder that has fascinated the wealthy for a great many years.

That wonder is—LIVE, GROWING, MINIATURE TREES!

Yes, as spectacular as the giant Sequoia Trees of California, these are as spectacular in reverse. Yes, these are genuine, LIVING trees that are dwarfed in miniature size. Perfect copies of large trees. Even fruit trees such as orange, lemon, grapefruit, apple, pear, peach and many others grow no more than 10 to 20 inches in height. They blossom and bear tasty, tiny fruit!

No doubt you have seen the imitations in novelty shops called "Ming" trees which are dead, made up from materials. You've seen the popularity these have achieved in spite of their high cost. But think how much more thrilling it would be to own—not a dead Ming tree—but a live, growing real miniature tree!

Dwarf miniature trees are not new. They've been grown in Japan and other nations of the Orient for centuries but their dwarfing process was a closely guarded secret. Only recently has this secret come to light. It will show how YOU can grow—right in your own home—from seed—live miniature dwarf trees that will bloom—bear fruit—remain green—yet always remain a miniature dwarf... a perfect copy of its full grown family.

Think of the satisfaction you will receive from watching it develop—the pride—when your friends view the tree with envy. Many people now have live ivy plants and tropical foliage growing in their homes—but you can have live, miniature dwarf trees! Yes, even an entire miniature forest.

Think of the prizes you can take home from flower shows and exhibits!

Have you ever planted a garden? Do you recall the fascination of watching the seeds sprout? The anxiety of watching the growth as you cared for it? When you grow miniature trees your fascination will multiply a hundred fold. No hobby could bring you more relaxation and enjoyment.

NATIONAL MAGAZINES AND MOVIES RECOGNIZE VALUE OF MINIATURE TREES

For a long time only the very wealthy could enjoy these beautiful trees because as the LIFE MAGAZINE a little over a year ago pointed out in a picture story, these trees brought from $250 to $1500 each! The HOME MAGAZINE (Sunday supplement of the Los Angeles Times) recently told the story of Miniature Dwarf Trees and their increased popularity but again the high cost of the trees limited this to the wealthier class of folks.

Among the first in America to recognize the enchantment of live miniature dwarf trees was the late movie idol, John Barrymore who discovered them in Japan and immediately imported a large number at a fabulous price for his personal California estate.

If you saw the recent movie: "Tokyo Joe" starring Humphrey Bogart, you will perhaps recall that a large number of these miniature trees were used throughout the entire movie for decorative effects.

Now the picture has changed. For the first time this rare secret is available to you (which is fully protected by United States Copyright). From it you can easily grow your own trees. Each step is simply explained to you so even a child can proceed.

Naturally a secret of this nature is valuable and if it was sold for its true worth—few could afford it—just as so few can afford the already grown trees—but we have remedied this.

In the interest of nature loving people—for people who really appreciate and enjoy the natural things, we have made up a limited number of copies and by keeping the expense down have made it possible for you to obtain this rare secret at minimum cost. This low price is possible only because we have eliminated expensive printed folders and large advertising which must be paid for by someone. By writing to you direct without expensive literature, we have saved three fourths of the cost. This saving has simply been passed on to you thus making it easier for you to enjoy the luxury of your own dwarf trees.

We do ask one thing. Bear in mind that miniature trees are now very valuable because of their rarity and if you, in turn, would give this rare secret to everyone you came in contact with—then soon everyone would grow their own trees and these trees would no longer be a novelty. That is the reason we are limiting the sale of these formulas and ask that you keep your copy of the secret to yourself. Sell all the trees you wish—but don't tell anyone how it is done. Thus you will help protect the rarity of the trees and help maintain a high value on them.

Needless to say—if you have any foresight—we need not tell you what this opportunity may mean to you. It means you can be FIRST. It means you can get in on the ground floor of a new business that you can get into WITHOUT ANY INVESTMENT—all you need to get started is some seeds and a little dirt!

Even if you have no desire to profit from this tremendous opportunity—think of the beauty you can add to your own home! One tree alone will be worth many times over the cost of this rare secret.

Now then, what will you do? You can forget all about it and then at some future time when you admire a miniature dwarf tree at someone else's home wish that you had taken advantage of the opportunity—or you can get right down to business—RIGHT NOW—and send your order in for your copy of the secret: "HOW TO GROW LIVE, MINIATURE DWARF TREES AT HOME."

Remember the number of copies is positively limited. Be first—send for your copy NOW.
